

Voice Center™ External Microphone

Voice Center Conference Phones have built-in microphones for complete 360° coverage in areas up to 10 x 15 ft (3 x 4.5 m).

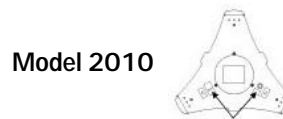

Voice Center Conference Phones also have RJ-22 input jacks for two external microphones to allow for irregular layouts and to extend coverage for larger areas, as illustrated below.

The Voice Center EM-101 External Microphone (sold separately from the conference phone) comes with a 70-inch (1.8 m) cable with RJ-22 connector. The EM-101 External Microphone works with most conference phones equipped with RJ-22 microphone jacks.

Installation of External Microphone

1. Plug the RJ-22 microphone connector into a microphone connector on your conference phone. On Voice Center Conference Phones, the two microphone connectors are labeled "EXTERNAL MIC." On the Model 2012, they are located on the sides of the unit; on the Model 2010, the connectors are located on the underside of the unit.

2. Place the external microphone at least 18 inches (0.5 m) from the Conference Phone and any other external microphone. The diagrams above illustrate some common arrangements for external microphones with a conference phone.
